Use the key above to decode the message and reveal an early Kodak advertising slogan.

Answer: You press the button we do the rest
George Eastman (left) and Thomas Edison (right) with a movie camera.
George Eastman (left) and Thomas Edison (right) with a movie camera.
CROSSWORD PUZZLE

ACROSS
1 Chemical that can change in light to record a picture
6 A spinning drum used to see mini-movies
8 George ________ Museum, where you can visit the Discovery Room
9 Tiny squares recorded on a chip that make up a digital image
10 Part of the camera used to focus the image
11 Part of the camera that can provide extra light when needed

DOWN
1 Image made by placing objects on special paper and exposing to light
2 A device used to see photos in 3-D
3 Camera part that opens and closes light in
4 A spinning disc with a different picture on each side that blend into one
5 Illusion of ________, effect that let us see movies
7 ______ obscura, Latin for dark room
CROSSWORD PUZZLE (KEY)

ACTIVITY SHEET

ACROSS
1. Chemical that can change in light to record a picture
2. Th
3. Silver
4. T
5. M
6. Zoetrope
7. C
8. Eastman
9. Pixels
10. Lens
11. Flash

DOWN
1. Image made by placing objects on special paper and exposing to light
2. A device used to see photos in 3-D
3. Camera part that opens and closes light in
4. A spinning disc with a different picture on each side that blend into one
5. Illusion of ________, effect that let us see movies
6. ______ obscura, Latin for dark room

© George Eastman Museum